If there are legal or disciplinary events material to your evaluation of Mr. Itzhaki, we are required to disclose all material facts regarding those events.

There are no legal or disciplinary events material to the evaluation of Mr. Itzhaki.

Item 4

Other Business Activities

- A. If Mr. Itzhaki is actively engaged in any investment-related business or occupation, including if Mr. Itzhaki is registered, or has an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer, registered representative of a broker-dealer, futures commission merchant (“FCM”), commodity pool operator (“CPO”), commodity trading advisor (“CTA”), or an associated person of an FCM, CPO, or CTA, we are required to disclose this fact and describe the business relationship, if any, between the advisory business and the other business.
1. If Mr. Itzhaki receives commissions, bonuses or other compensation based on the sale of securities or other investment products, including as a broker-dealer or registered representative, and including distribution or service (“trail”) fees from the sale of mutual funds, we have to disclose this fact. If this compensation is not cash, we are required to explain what type of compensation Mr. Itzhaki receives. We must explain that this practice gives Mr. Itzhaki an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on your needs.

Mr. Itzhaki does not receive any other economic benefit for providing advisory services in addition to advisory fees.

- B. If Mr. Itzhaki is actively engaged in any business or occupation for compensation not discussed in response to Item 4.A, above, and the other business activity or activities provide a substantial source of Mr. Itzhaki' income or involve a substantial amount of Mr. Itzhaki's time, we are required to disclose this fact and must describe the nature of that business. If the other business activities represent less than 10 percent of Mr. Itzhaki's time and income, we may presume that they are not substantial.

Mr. Itzhaki has nothing to disclose in this regard.

Item 5 Additional Compensation

If someone who is not a client provides an economic benefit to Mr. Itzhaki for providing advisory services, we are required to generally describe the arrangement. For purposes of this Item, economic benefits include sales awards and other prizes, but do not include Mr. Itzhaki's regular salary. Any bonus that is based, at least in part, on the number or amount of sales, client referrals, or new accounts should be considered an economic benefit, but other regular bonuses should not.

Mr. Itzhaki has nothing to disclose in this regard.
