Item 3

Disciplinary Information

If there are legal or disciplinary events material to your evaluation of Mr. Orozco, we are required to disclose all material facts regarding those events.¹

We have nothing to disclose in this regard.

Item 4

Other Business Activities

A. If Mr. Orozco is actively engaged in any investment-related business or occupation, including if Mr. Orozco is registered, or has an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer, registered representative of a broker-dealer, futures commission merchant (“FCM”), commodity pool operator (“CPO”), commodity trading advisor (“CTA”), or an associated person of an FCM, CPO, or CTA, we are required to disclose this fact and describe the business relationship, if any, between the advisory business and the other business.

1. If Mr. Orozco receives commissions, bonuses or other compensation based on the sale of securities or other investment products, including as a broker-dealer or registered representative, and including distribution or service (“trail”) fees from the sale of mutual funds, we have to disclose this fact. If this compensation is not cash, we are required to explain what type of compensation Mr. Orozco receives. We must explain that this practice gives Mr. Orozco an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on your needs.

Mr. Orozco has nothing to disclose in this regard.

- B. If Mr. Orozco is actively engaged in any business or occupation for compensation not discussed in response to Item 4.A, above, and the other business activity or activities provide a substantial source of Mr. Orozco’s income or involve a substantial amount of Mr. Orozco’s time, we are required to disclose this fact and must describe the nature of that business. If the other business activities represent less than 10 percent of Mr. Orozco’s time and income, we may presume that they are not substantial.

Mr. Orozco has nothing to disclose in this regard.

Item 5 Additional Compensation

If someone who is not a client provides an economic benefit to Mr. Orozco for providing advisory services, we are required to generally describe the arrangement. For purposes of this Item, economic benefits include sales awards and other prizes, but do not include Mr. Orozco’s regular salary. Any bonus that is based, at least in part, on the number or amount of sales, client referrals, or new accounts should be considered an economic benefit, but other regular bonuses should not.

We have nothing to disclose in this regard.

Item 6 Supervision

We are required to explain how we supervise Mr. Orozco, including how we monitor the advice Mr. Orozco provides to you. Our firm has to provide the name, title and telephone number of the person responsible for supervising Mr. Orozco’s advisory activities on behalf of our firm.

Mr. Stavinsky, Chief Compliance Officer of Tamar Securities, LLC, supervises and monitors Mr. Orozco’s activities on a regular basis. Please contact Mr. Stavinsky if you have any questions regarding Mr. Orozco’s brochure supplement at Tamar Securities, LLC’s main office number; 818-914-7460.
